College football Hall inductees

OMAHA, Neb. — The way Barry Switzer sees it. Tom Osborne is right up there with the greatest coaches ever in college football: Bud WilkinsoN, Bear Byrant, Frank Leahy, Knute Rockne.

"Tom casts his shadow as far as those guys and not because he was taller than them, Switzer said Monday. "He was just huge."

Osborne, the former Nebraska coach, will be be inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame tonight in New York along with 12 ex-players. The group includes Auburn running back Bo Jackson (1982-85), the 1985 Heisman Trophy winner; Brigham Young quarterback Jim McMahon (1977-81); and Pittsburgh tackle Bill Fralic (1981-84).

Scelfo named Tulane coach

NEW ORLEANS — Chris Scelfo, a south Louisiana native who always wanted to coach Tulane football, saw his wish come true on Monday. Scelfo was chosen to run the program that Tommy Bowden turned from perpetual loser to the 10th-ranked team in the country. Bowden became Clemson's head coach last week.

Scelfo, an assistant at Georgia the last three years, met with the Green Wave players Monday and immediately took over planning for the Liberty Bowl game against Brigham Young on Dec. 31.

"My first order of business is to get our game plan for the bowl in place and get ready for practice," Scelfo said. "I'm glad we have the game to work on. It'll give the players a chance to get to know me."

Scelfo was selected over Tulane offensive coordinator Rich Rodriguez, who was the choice of the players and had been recommended by

"I can't talk," running back Toney Converse said pointing to his eyes. "I just found out. I can't believe it.'

The players' unhappiness can be overcome, Scelfo said. "Most of them loved the coach before Bowden too," he said. "Nobody likes change."

Rodriguez said he was informed Monday morning by athletic director Sandra Barbour that he did not get the job.

"This is a shock. I was so sure. I brought in my green coat and tie this morning," he said. "This is so discouraging. I'm disappointed. I thought I'd done all I could to prove myself. I'm worried about the kids.'

Rodriguez is also one of two finalist for the head coaching job at Middle Tennessee State. He said he would also contact Southwestern Louisiana about their job again and planned to fly to Clemson on Tuesday. Bowden has offered him the assistant head coach-offensive coordinator job there.

Gymnast vs. parents in court

HOUSTON — The parents of gymnast Dominique Moceanu won't get an opportunity to question their daughter about her accusations that her father harasses her before the three meet in a courtroom this week, a judge ruled Monday.

Camelia and Dumitru Moceanu had requested that their attorney be allowed to question the 17year-old gold medalist before a judge on Wednesday considers making permanent a temporary restraining order barring contact between the gymnast and her father.

But Miss Moceanu's court-appointed attorney, Elle Yarrell, challenged the request and asked that it be blocked. Associate Judge Michael Hay complied.

"We thought it was inappropriate," Ms. Yarrell said Monday. "We offered to answer written questions."

But Katherine Scardino, attorney for Miss Moceanu's prents, rejected that offer, Ms. Yarrell said. Calls to Ms. Scardino were not immediately returned Monday to The Associated Press.

Ms. Yarrell said she was concerned that if a judge granted the parents' motion, they would use the session to speak to the gymnast in the their native Romanian language, as they had in at least one other meeting with their daughter. Ms. Yarrell characterized the behavior as an intimidation tactic.

"Later she told me that she felt that they were putting incredible pressure on her at that time." Ms. Yarrell said. "So we didn't want to be in the same situation that we were in." Speaking through publicist Janey Miller, Miss
